

CONFLICTS IN COLOR

RIVER

My inspiration for this piece reflects the challenges and my experiences that have shaped me and hope for another day and surrounded by messages that speak loudly and deepen my perception of life.

"Conflict" portrays the experiences I have witnessed and endured. "Color" represents the actions of others and the nature of myself. Red is a common theme in my art and to some viewers it can be seen as aggressive or rage but to me it resonates as depth and deep understanding.
